

FARM BLOC GAINS ANOTHER VICTORY

Joint Committee Suggests Radical Banking Changes to Aid Farmers.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.

The agricultural bloc in Congress won another signal victory to-day, when the joint committee of agricultural inquiry, of which Representative Sydney Anderson (Mich.) is chairman, made a report suggesting radical changes in the banking machinery of the country to meet the farmers' requirements.

Credits running from six months to three years on farm products are suggested as a remedy for the relief of the farmers. The time of the credits to be extended is to depend upon the character of the products. In the case of crops, six months may be sufficient in some instances; but in the case of live stock three years may be required.

Apparently the agricultural bloc is not certain that the plan to add a farmer to the Federal Reserve Board will solve all the troubles of the agriculturist, so the suggestion of radical changes in the banking machinery of the country is being desired in the interest of that group.

The committee says that "if these recommendations are approved by Congress, the result will be an extension of the powers of present existing agencies in such manner as will best be calculated to grant to the farmer immediate and effective loan facilities for that immediate period for which there is not now sufficient available credit.

"The approval of these recommendations will, it is believed, effectively and safely bridge the gap in the two kinds of credits without the necessity of establishing any new or untried machinery and without sacrificing any of the fundamental principles upon which both the farm loan system and the Federal Reserve system must rest."

HIGH RATES FOR FARM LOANS TO BE EXPOSED

Wallace to Tell of Cases at Agricultural Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Farm financing came prominently to the front to-day with the announcement by Secretary Wallace that he would lay before the national agricultural conference, next week, charges that certain companies were taking advantage of the present crisis to charge "exorbitant" interest rates. At the same time the Agricultural Department made public information it had gathered for possible use of the conference showing that the banks of the United States had outstanding approximately $3,829,891,415 personal and collateral loans to farmers, and $1,447,452,926 in farm mortgage loans at the end of 1920.

FOOD IN U. S. DROPS NEAREST 1914 LEVEL

Retail Prices Far Below Those of Europe.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau,
Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.

America has succeeded in reducing prices of necessities to more nearly the pre-war levels than any other country. Necessities here now cost approximately 50 per cent. more than before the war. This applies especially to food, the cost of the chief necessities being:

In France the cost of living is 231 per cent. more than in 1914. An almost equal increase is recorded for Italy. In Sweden retail prices are 111 per cent. above pre-war levels.

In Germany living costs are more than 1,600 per cent. greater than in 1914.

In Italy living costs still are increasing, although in all other countries prices are declining.

DEARING FOR LISBON POST.

Harding to Nominate Hughes Aid as Minister to Portugal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Fred Morris Dearing, Assistant Secretary of State, will be nominated by President Harding as American Minister to Portugal within a few days, it was announced to-day at the White House.

Mr. Dearing entered the service of the Department of State in June, 1904. After serving as secretary at legations in Havana, Pekin, London and Mexico City, he was made assistant chief of the Division of Latin-American Affairs in the State Department in 1911. After two years service there he was appointed secretary of legation at Brussels, and later held a similar position at the embassies in Madrid and Petrograd.

Girls Ban Short Skirt, Bare Knees, High Heels

AGUSTA, Me., Jan. 20.—Girls of Cony High School, in this city, passed resolutions to-day placing a ban on the use of cosmetics, immodest dresses and dresses made of expensive and elaborate cloth.

Skirts must be four inches or more below the knee, petticoats must be worn with all light skirts, and the girls must abandon the wearing of fancy stockings, French heels, fancy garters below the knees or rolled down stockings.

ENO'S VALET TELLS OF FRUGAL HABITS

Asserts He Made Pinchots Pay When His Guests at Jekyll Island Club.

A story of how Amos R. E. Pinchot and Mrs. Pinchot spent six weeks at the Jekyll Island Club as "paying guests" was told in the Surrogate's Court yesterday as evidence that Amos R. Eno, whose relatives are contesting his will, was not in full possession of mental faculties during the last year of his life. The will disposes of an estate of $13,000,000.

Eno traveled with a valet, Edmond Bigaut, during the autumn before he died, and the valet told on the witness stand yesterday of his employer's vagaries during a sojourn at Jekyll Island. "We went there after his doctor had ordered him to rest," he said, "and his nephew, Mr. Pinchot, and Mr. Pinchot's wife went with us as Mr. Eno's guests. We were there six weeks, and he complained of the expense constantly. Finally when it came time to return to New York he asked for his bill."

"I do not remember the size of it, but he became greatly interested in calculating it and sent for Mr. Pinchot. "Here," he said, "is an outrage. I refuse to pay any such bill. You have been here six weeks and have had a good time. You will have to pay your share of it."

Pinchot, the valet declared, seemed a good deal more interested in calculating the bill than in the amount of the bill and paid it at once and told the valet not to mention it to Eno again. Bigaut also told how Eno demanded strawberries when he first arrived at the club and had the superintendent send to Jacksonville for two boxes. When they arrived Eno declared they were ripe, and then asked how much they had cost. When told the price would be a dollar a box he became violently angry and declared that he was being cheated, because better and cheaper berries could have been procured from New York.

The witness gave a long recital of Eno's parsimonious habits in the last few years of his life. While they were in Rome, he said, Eno became so ill that he made up his mind he was going to die and cautioned the valet not to accompany his body to New York if he died, because there was "no sense in paying steamship fare, and besides I can't afford it."

The witness recital of how Eno stopped only at cheap hotels was discounted somewhat when he was cross-examined, for he admitted that he was always urging his employer to go to better ones, and that if he had done the valet would have received commissions from the proprietors.

WARNS SCIENTISTS FACTIONS TO UNITE

Judge, Delaying Naming Trustees, Counsels Harmony.

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—Considerations which will govern the selection of three new trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society were outlined by Judge Crosby in the Supreme Court to-day. After listening to arguments for and against the appointment of three men suggested by the directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, he said he would not make the appointments at this time.

He said the church had been "wholly divided" since the beginning of the litigation between the trustees and the directors.

"There has got to be harmony," the judge declared. "If the trustees to be appointed are trustees who will be engaged in differences with the directors this controversy will go on indefinitely and nothing will have been accomplished. It seems to me that if any Christian Scientist desires the success and growth and permanency of this organization this controversy must stop, and if it continues much longer there will be a condition financially which will make it perhaps of little moment whether there are trustees or not."

MRS. DODGE WORE PEARLS ONLY TWICE

Then Gave $825,000 Necklace to Daughter, Mrs. Cromwell of Philadelphia.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
DETROIT, Jan. 20.—Howard B. Bloomer, executor of the estate of Horace E. Dodge, and business adviser of Mrs. Dodge, has confirmed the report, printed in THE NEW YORK HERALD last Tuesday, that Mrs. Dodge no longer owns the pearl necklace for which Mr. Dodge paid $825,000 in May, 1920, and which is said to have belonged to the Empress Catherine II. of Russia.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

Mr. Bloomer said that while the pearls were in the possession of Mrs. Dodge, she wore them only twice. The first time was at the wedding of her daughter to Mr. Cromwell in June, 1920. The second time was a year later when her son, Horace E. Dodge, Jr., married Miss Lois Knowlton. On this occasion Mrs. Dodge not only wore the necklace but also the diamond tiara which she had inherited from her father, the late John D. Dodge, and which she had given to her daughter, Delphine, the wife of James H. R. Cromwell of Philadelphia, and that the necklace is now the absolute property of Mrs. Cromwell.

TOPICS TO-MORROW IN CITY'S CHURCHES

All Souls' Unitarian to Unveil Gelert Tablet to Memory of Dr. Slicer.

Central Park West and Seventy-sixth street, the minister, Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, will preach at 11 A. M. His subject being "The Stigmata." There will be music by the quartet under the direction of Mr. Warren, organist and choirmaster.

The Rev. Henry Swenson Cobb will preach at both services at the Collegiate Church, West End avenue and Seventy-seventh street. At the afternoon service at 4:30 the choir will sing Gounod's "Gallia." Mrs. Florence Hinkle Witherspoon will sing the soprano solo.

New Chimes to Play.
At the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock special music under the direction of Dr. William C. Carl will include the Bell Anthem by Henry Purcell, introducing the new chimes installed in the belfry of the church and used for the first time at this service.

The Rev. Walter Duncan Buchanan, pastor, will preach to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock on the Broadway Presbyterian Church at the "Self-Confessed Barriers." In the evening at 8 he will have for his subject "Christ-likeness."

At the Fourth Presbyterian Church, West End avenue and Ninety-first street, Dr. Edgar Whitaker Work, the pastor, will preach morning and evening. The Rev. George Jeffrey Russell, former chaplain A. E. F., will speak at the Harlem Y. M. C. A. to-morrow at 4 P. M. on "The Knicker." At the East Side branch from 4 to 5 P. M. there will be a concert under the direction of Mrs. Laura E. Merrill; from 5 to 6 P. M. Mr. Radanski will talk on "Poland." The men's meeting in the Bedford Branch Y. M. C. A., Bedford avenue, corner Monroe street, Brooklyn, will be addressed by Dr. S. Parkes Cadman at 3:30 o'clock, speaking on "The Tragedy of the Near East." There will be special music by the Gloria Trumpeters.

Mrs. Hale at Town Hall.
Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale will speak at the Town Hall to-morrow morning on "Woman's Part in Internationalism." Mrs. Hale, who has just arrived from England, is well known to New York audiences as a champion of the rights of women and for the prominent part she played in the woman suffrage campaign. She speaks Sunday morning under the auspices of the Theosophical Association, which is presenting a series of free public lectures on internationalism.

"Abdul Baha, the Prophet of a Universal Religion," will be the subject of a sermon by the Rev. John Herman Randall at the Lyric Theatre to-morrow at 11 A. M.

The Church of the Healing Church (Divine Science), which holds services in the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria, will be addressed by the pastor, the Rev. W. John Murray, to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock on "Clairvoyance; Inherited and Acquired."

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.

At the Commodore Hotel "Defeat or Victory" will be the subject of Mrs. Mary Chapin in her lecture at 11 o'clock. Miss Villa Faulkner Page will give her usual Saturday morning lecture at the Hotel Majestic this morning at 11 o'clock, her subject being "Dreadful Premortals." Miss Page also will lecture on internationalism.